I teach online and have to go to town to do this due to my lack of consistent WIFI with my dish service. Plus it is very expensive and dependent on cloud cover to work.

We have no access to broadband in our area other than a hotspot from cell phone provider. And using a hotspot often doesn't work very well, it's a hit and miss depending on weather & tower outages. We are in need of broadband to provide internet access for school work, we often have grandchildren staying with us. Also need internet so working from home could be an option.
