

A Wish

By Wanderer

I lie on the ground and stare into space
The stars start to move into the shape of your face
I see you there now, looking down at me
With that cute little smile that I like to see
You say, "Close your eyes. Tell me what you see."
I see only two people, just you and me.
We're walking the shoreline with our feet getting wet
The horizon turns pink as the sun starts to set
We make love through the night on that white sandy shore
Then I hold you while thinking I could want nothing more
Trapped by my thoughts I'm stuck in a daze
Time passes by and not a second ceases to amaze
Oh I wish I could be in that one special place
As I lie on the ground and stare into space.